

Individual Inquiry Offers

Agency Distribution

An inquiry offer, “ballpark,” or quick quote is a preliminary pricing estimate for a specific impairment, usually made without the benefit of complete underwriting documentation. The table below provides ballpark estimates for some frequently seen impairments, and provides criteria for obtaining an underwriting offer. Underwriting for most impairments will require an Attending Physician’s Statement (APS) as well as the specific reports noted below.

Best case scenarios and rated offers are subject to review of full underwriting requirements, including medical and non-medical histories, and must conform to all other preferred criteria. In some situations, Prudential may offer Preferred categories when other carriers may not.
